The Health and Spa line consists of an interesting and vintage design, which inclines the thoughts towards relaxation and self-discovery. Body products are expected to be kind, both to the skin and the environment and this is exactly what the Health and Spa line does. Containing both vitamin E & A, to soothe and hydrate the skin and nourish the hair.

The Body Lotion has a gentle Green Tea fragrance enriched with Cucumber extract, one of the most highly demanded ingredients in the cosmetic industry due to its properties. It has an astringent effect, moisturizes the skin leaving it smooth, refreshed and smelling amazing.

The bottles have a generous 30ml capacity, enough for a complete wash. They are made out of PET, which is recyclable and have an Aluminum cap, proving once again their care for the environment. The design of the whole line is a special one, vintage and elegant yet easy to match with the colours of any hotel room.

ELSYL

On the European market, the ELSYL line brings closer the Indian influences with its Ginseng blend fragrance and amazing exotic accents. These which also succeed in providing cleanliness, relaxation and functionality in the bathroom.

The Ginseng fragrance with Ginseng extract brings benefits not only to the hair and skin due to the incredible properties of the plant itself, but also transforms the room into a real spa by invading your senses. This plant has also been considered an important herbal remedy in traditional Chinese medicine for thousands of years, where it has been used primarily as a treatment for weakness and fatigue. This makes our products very special and beneficial to its users.

The range is packed in beautiful 40ml PET bottle with matte gold Aluminum cap, fitting perfectly in design with the cream and brown writing. The logo, name of the line and the other inscriptions are easily remarkable, making its purpose and benefits clear to its users. Its generous quantity of 40ml liquid is enough for a complete hair and body wash.

The Elsy line provides various options for liquids and soaps which can be nicely combined depending on budget and demands, without sacrificing the quality or the attention to details which matter so much for the guest. The design is very neat and carefully thought out in order to match any colors in the bathroom.

The liquids are without SLS, Parabens and artificial colour (we used food colorants compliant with the EU legislation)

The elephant tree MARULA SOUL

The Marula Soul range aims for perfection by bringing to the market high-end products and offering its users a premium hotel experience, that are both pleasing on the eye and the skin. The range of hotel toiletries contains Marula oil, which has antioxidant properties and is moisturizing to the skin.

Marula oil is rich in Vitamin C and Vitamin E and contains a high proportion of palmitic acid, which acts as an emollient softening the skin and helping to retain moisture by forming an occlusive layer and help to rebuild damaged skin.

Its antioxidant capacity is 60% higher than Argan oil and has been used in many African cosmetics. With all this in mind you will be sure your guests will feel refreshed and rejuvenated during their stay.

SLOANE ST!

Taylor of London is a brand that is rich in tradition whilst also keeping up with the current trends in bath, body and home products. Sloane Street forms just part of an extensive hotel toiletries range produced by Taylor of London.

The Sloane Street collection carries a stylish, modern design on the hotel products. The famous Sloane Street store front, where Taylor Of London opened their first retail shop in the 1960's, contrast printed on both the white tubes and black packaged soap. This along with their trademark sophisticated text brings a touch of class to hotel bathrooms.

This line by Taylor of London comes in a luxurious Olive and Shea butter fragrance, a treat to both hair and skin. The Shea butter is amazing for dry skin and olive oil is rich in minerals, proteins and vitamins, especially in Vitamin E, which is a potent anti-oxidant. The perfect mix to enjoy after a long day.
